Investment Policy and Objective

The Company's objective is to provide investors with a combination of capital growth and income. To achieve this, it invests in securities (including equities, exchange traded funds, equity-related securities, bonds and derivatives) issued by companies, Governments and other types of issuers located throughout the world.

The Company has not set maximum exposures for any type of issuer, geographical regions or sectors. How the Company's investments are allocated will depend on market conditions and the judgement of the Board as to what is in the best interests of Shareholders. This is to provide it with the flexibility that is necessary to deal with an ever-changing economic environment. It would, however, normally be expected that most of the Company's investments will be in equities, exchange traded funds, equity-related securities, preference shares, bonds, bills and derivatives. However, the Company is not prohibited from investing in other types of securities including unlisted investments and property. No more than 15 per cent of the Company's portfolio may be invested in any one investment at the time the investment is made. There is no restriction on the amount that may be invested in any one country.

The Company's Articles permit borrowing up to an amount not exceeding 75% of Shareholders' funds. The Board may utilise borrowing up to this limit from time to time to enhance income and capital returns over the long term and may borrow in Sterling and other currencies.

Interim Management Report

Performance

The Fund generated a NAV total return of +1.3% and a share price total return of +3.8% in the six months to 31st October 2017. It also paid a dividend of 4.70p per share to shareholders on the 15th August 2017. The FTSE 100, by comparison, generated a total return of +6.1%. While we underperformed the FTSE 100 total return index for the period as a whole, we outperformed it in four out of the last six months and hope to outperform it for the full year.

At the half-year end 45.8% of our portfolio was invested in equities and 53.6% in bonds, preference shares and treasury bills. Of those investments, 86.5% were held primarily to produce income and 12.9% to generate capital growth. This income focused and defensive strategy has allowed us to boost our income and dividends every year for the last five years and to increase our dividend by 243% over that period and I am pleased to announce that this trend has continued into the current year with our income for the six months to 31st October 2017 rising 15.6%. Capital growth, however, was held back by this asset allocation and we produced a capital loss of £1.2m against a gain of £4.3m in the six months to 31st October 2016. In order to address this and boost our capital performance we added some technology stocks to our portfolio and these have since generated good levels of capital growth.

Another factor which impaired our first half capital performance was weakness in the Argentine Peso. This fell 17.5% against Sterling despite improving economic and political conditions in Argentina and worsening ones in the UK. We expect the Argentine economy to continue to strengthen and with it President Macri's hold on power. The UK on the other hand is headed in the other direction. The prospect of curbing further rises in the massive UK government debt is constantly being deferred. There are also signs that, as the government is struggling to sustain its delicate majority, that it is indulging in "populist" policies with an anti-business flavour. These policies run the risk of damaging the medium to long term growth prospects of the UK. In summary, the prospects for the Argentine economy are set to improve as the UK's are set to decline. That will strengthen the Peso and weaken Sterling which will benefit our future performance.

Additions to the portfolio over the period include Micron Technology Inc, a manufacturer of semiconductor devices, including dynamic random-access memory, flash memory, and solid-state drives, and Teradyne Inc, a market leader in automatic test equipment for systems and semiconductors and also, more importantly for us, a collaborative robotics business following their purchase of Universal Robots. We also added shares of Tesco plc and BT Group plc, for their recovery potential, with BT Group plc having the added attraction of a high dividend yield.

As central banks around the world raise interest rates, perpetual bonds, preference shares and low yielding bonds will suffer disproportionately. For this reason, we sold most of our preference shares and some of our lower yielding bonds during the period, booking very considerable profits in the process. Other notable movements in the portfolio include the addition of shareholdings in Royal Dutch Shell and Total SA to benefit from the improving oil price as well as providing good dividend yields. We also added to our holding of Republic of Argentina 15.5% 2026 bonds as we continue to see positive developments in the country, especially after an excellent outcome for President Macri's Cambiemos party in the recent Legislative elections.

In terms of the drivers of our performance over the past six months, the top contributors from our equities were General Motors with a total return during the period of 22.8%, followed by HSBC Holdings plc which produced a total return of 18.0%, Teradyne Inc, 22.5%, Micron Technology Inc, 20.0%, Royal Dutch Shell, 12.3%, and Credit Suisse, 9.5%. Another notable performer was Rolls Royce Holdings plc which produced a total return of 19.8% however it had less of an impact due to its lower weighting in the portfolio. Very few of our equity investments had a negative impact on our performance, the main one being ETRACS 2x Long WFC BDCI ETN. This position provides us with a significant amount of income, however the total return from it during the period was -17.4%.

Our bond portfolio, which produces most of our income, was in terms of total return less of a driver of our performance. Two bonds that performed well were Erste Bank's callable, 8.875% perpetual and BBVA's callable, 8.875% perpetual providing total returns of 16.2% and 14.2% respectively. Our Argentine bonds fell single digit percentages during the period but the most significant negative impact for us, as was mentioned earlier, came from the weakness of the Peso, which fell 17.5%, against the Pound.

Income and Dividends

A dividend of 4.7p per share was paid on 15th August 2017 in respect of the financial year ended 30th April 2017. This represented a 56.7% increase on the 3.0p per share dividend paid for the financial year ended 30th April 2016. As the table below shows we have increased the dividend we pay to shareholders by 243% over the last five years. We have also increased it in every one of those years.

Financial Year	Dividend Amount per share	% Change	Ex-date	Record date	Pay date
2017	4.70p	+56.7%	06/07/2017	07/07/2017	15/08/2017
2016	3.00p	+6.4%	14/07/2016	15/07/2016	23/08/2016
2015	2.82p	+22.6%	23/07/2015	24/07/2015	28/08/2015
2014	2.30p	+67.9%	16/07/2014	18/07/2014	25/08/2014
2013	1.37p	—	26/06/2013	28/06/2013	29/07/2013

In accordance with established policy no interim dividend has been declared for the first half of the year.

Outlook

We expect to see the economic situation in Argentina to continue to improve and with it the value of the Peso and overseas demand for Argentinian assets. In the event that this happens it will be good for us and provide us with both increased income and capital gains. Elsewhere most of our income earning assets are relatively high yielding and low beta and provide us with a strong, stable income base from which to fund dividends. Meanwhile our tech and recovery stocks offer the added attraction of long term capital growth albeit that the path to that may become more volatile in the short term. While we are content that we have a very good, stable and high yielding portfolio that we can be confident in, we nonetheless recognise that risks are rising.

Volatility has returned to our markets of late, having been largely absent for many months and more acute bouts of this are likely over the next six months given the mounting number of risks and uncertainties facing markets. These range from:

- A rising statistical probability that the current bull market is getting close to the end;
- The timing and size of the rise in global interest rates;
- The twists and turns in the Brexit saga;
- The risk of rising inflation in the UK and internationally;
- Political instability in the UK, with prospect of a Labour government;
- Political instability in the EU following Merkel's problems in Germany and the rise of anti-EU parties across Europe;
- The prospect that the Trump administration will stumble over a number of issues such as North Korea;
- High levels of debt in many countries across the world, which could trigger another financial crisis.

Such risks are out of our control but by ensuring that our shares offer a stable, high dividend yield we hope to protect our shareholders from them.

Gearing and Capital Allocation

At the end of the six-month period to 31st October 2017 the Trust had gearing, net of cash, equal to 50.5% of NAV and its portfolio was allocated as follows: 50.9% was invested in bonds; 45.8% in ordinary shares; 2.7% in preference shares and 0.6% in cash. Figure 1 shows the movement in the allocation of our capital across those four different asset classes, ordinary shares, bonds, preference shares and cash, since our year end 30th April 2017.

Principal risks and going concern

Your Company is, and will continue to be, exposed to a number of risks which are detailed in full in the Strategic Report on page 5 of the Annual Report and have not changed up to the date of this report. The key market risk arises from the uncertainty regarding the future price performance of the listed securities held by your Company. If gearing is employed this risk is magnified.

The prices of the individual listed securities in the portfolio are monitored on a daily basis and the Board, which meets quarterly, imposes borrowing limits to ensure gearing levels are appropriate to market conditions. When gearing is employed the potential impact of changes in interest rates is taken into consideration. The securities dealt in are all listed on recognised exchanges and are readily realisable.

The Fund is exposed to currency risk, due to the range of currencies in which investments are held. A substantial proportion of the Company's assets are held in assets denominated in foreign currencies and movements in these currencies can significantly affect the Sterling value of the Company's foreign denominated income and assets. The fund manager tracks currency movements on a regular basis and hedging is considered on a case-by-case basis.

Where investments are made in emerging markets there is a risk of higher volatility in the price performance of these equities and their associated currencies. Political risk and adverse economic circumstances are more likely to arise, putting the value of the investment at a higher risk. The registration and settlement arrangements in emerging markets may be less developed than in more mature markets so operational risks of investing are higher.

The Company's business model and strategy, together with the risk factors likely to affect its future position are set out in the Strategic Report on page 4 of the Annual Report and Accounts. The Directors consider that the Company has adequate financial resources in the form of readily realisable listed securities, including cash and credit facilities to continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future. For this reason, they continue to use the going concern basis in preparing the accounts

Borrowings, Gearing and Liquidity

The Fund ended the period with gearing net of cash of 50.5%. The Company financed its gearing by means of credit facilities with KAS Bank N.V.

Generally, gearing beneficially affects the Company's NAV when the value of its investments is rising, but adversely affects it when the value of investments is falling.
